4 reasons to choose quality film:

P Medical Grade
 As a high-end decorative film material, PETG was once widely used in medical devices (test tubes, reagent bottles, etc.), baby bottles, children's toys, displays, light covers, refrigerator containers, beverage bottles, food and cosmetic shrink packaging, etc.

E Originating from Europe
 PETG is now widely used in developed countries such as Europe, America, Japan and South Korea, providing a more eco-friendly choice for high-end consumers' furniture decoration.

T Food Grade Eco-friendly
 It does not contain any substances harmful to the human body. Even newborns can safely use it, making the baby's growth journey safer, healthier, and able to meet the US FDA standards for food contact.

G Biodegradable and Recyclable
 The chemical elements contained in PETG are the same as paper, carbon, hydrogen and oxygen, which can be fully degraded or recycled without burdening the earth.
